

$3 Reduction Possible

New State Budget Provides Andover With Tax Relief

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The $2 billion local aid package finally signed into law by Gov. Edward J. King Tuesday as part of a $6.3 billion state budget includes approximately $600,000 in aid for Andover, according to acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi.

Those funds could mean a $2 reduction on the existing tax rate of $66 per $1,000, Torrisi told the selectmen Monday night. Combined with the $1 reduction that will result from the $28 million town and school budget approved by town meeting, taxpayers can look forward to a total reduction of $3 on the tax rate.

While some cities and towns are complaining that the amount of state aid they will receive under a lottery formula included in the new budget is unfair and

Selectmen To Ask Bellotti To 'Freeze' Condo Bylaw

By Sue Aucella Deacon

To help apartment dwellers faced with condominium conversion, now clouded by pending court action, the selectmen will ask the attorney general to honor the town's condo conversion bylaw until the courts decide if the bylaw is illegal.

The selectmen Monday night voted to ask Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti to "freeze" the town's condo bylaw, which the attorney general's office has ruled illegal, pending the outcome of the town's court appeal against that ruling.

The bylaw, approved overwhelmingly by town meeting last month, would require a one-year waiting period before tenants could be evicted from their apartments to make way for condominium conversion. It would also require developers to obtain a Zoning Board of Appeals special permit before they could convert apartments into condominiums.

Some 70 townspeople, most of them elderly residents of the Washington Park apartments now for sale as condominiums, appeared before the selectmen at Memorial Hall Library Monday night to appeal for help.

Cohen Properties of Brookline, new owners of the 157 units at Washington Park, have offered tenants their own units at a 12 percent discount — but tenants must decide by August 8, or their units will be offered for sale to the general public, at full price.

Some Washington Park tenants are willing to buy their units, but they fear becoming entangled in legal problems: Town Counsel Alfred Daniels has indicated that the town could stop that conversion because the land was rezoned for apartments in 1962.

Condominiums, each owned by single families, could violate the multi-family zoning intended by the town when it rezoned that land, Daniels explained.

But Monday night he had no answers for

A Pajama Breakfast

Nightcaps and nightshirts were the proper attire for this breakfast party as the participants at the Bancroft Playground enjoyed a unique activity: a "come as you are" breakfast with their friends. Julie and Mark Cutler, 50 Lucerne Drive, enjoy their pancakes together. Other photos on pages 28-29.

Essex County Calendar

Looking for something special to do next weekend? Want to plan your vacation around concerts, fairs, festivals and plenty of fun? Then take a look at Essex County's Calendar of Events.

The Annual Yankee Homecoming in Newburyport runs from July 25 to Aug. 6. Parades, picnics, river cruises and many more activities are planned.

Golf fans will enjoy the Boston Five Classic on the LPGA National Tour, scheduled for July 27 through Aug. 2 in Danvers.

During the first part of August, three communities celebrate their past with a variety of special events. In Ipswich, it's Olde Ipswich Days (Aug. 1-9), in Beverly it's Homecoming Week (Aug. 2-9), and in Salem, it's Heritage Days (Aug. 9-13).

Salem's Witches Cup Bicycle Race, called the "best bike race in the country," is August 2. Top national pros will compete.

Lynn's Youth Week (Aug. 9-15) features events leading to the World Drum and Bugle Corps Competition, Aug. 15.

Sandcastle builders will flock to Steep Hill Beach in Ipswich on Aug. 22. Awards will be offered in several categories, including family projects and special designs.

September's crisper weather brings back the enthusiasm for races, and two are planned; the All-Around Cape Ann Road Race on Sept. 7, and Salisbury's Great Race (by boat, funny machine and foot) on Sept. 11.

Old Fashioned Days in Salisbury, the Antique Car Show at the Topsfield Fairgrounds, and the Harbor Festival and Schooner Parade in Salem are scheduled for the weekend of Sept. 12-13.

In late September, the Fall Boat Regatta will take its river cruise from Newburyport to Haverhill.

Fall vacationers will be glad to learn that October is museum month on Cape Ann, with special events and discounts to area attractions.

One of the best New England fairs, the Topsfield Fair, runs from Oct. 3-12, and promises a wide variety of entertainment and exhibits.

They're Looking For A Few Good 'Persons'

Shades of the Sixties: The Selective Service is looking for a few good men—and women—to serve on local review boards should the draft be resurrected.

In a letter to the selectmen, John McMullan, state director for selective service for Massachusetts, said the service is attempting to "revitalize (its) machinery" by training local boards "for availability in any future national emergency."

Local boards would not select individuals for service, the letter explains—that would be done by national lottery based on birth dates—but would review requests for deferments, exemptions and postponement.

The selective service is looking for 225 applications to sit on 45 boards in the state. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 60, not a member of the armed forces whether active, retired or reserves; and who has not served as a draft board member for more than 15 years is eligible. Volunteers must undergo a training program and will serve without pay.

Selectmen Deny Pole Permits

The selectmen Monday night denied Mass. Electric Company its request to add two new poles on Pine Street following a public hearing in Memorial Hall Library.

The request was denied after three Pine Street residents argued that the poles would be "horrible looking" and were not necessary.

An electric company spokesman explained that the new poles would allow the company to feed the area from two directions rather than one, as a "precautionary measure" in case of power outages.

The selectmen indicated that the electric company could request another public hearing to reconsider the matter in more detail.

The board did grant, however, requests to relocate a pole on Rattlesnake Hill Road, locate new poles on Andover Street and Chandler Circle, and construct new conduits under River Street, Chandler Circle, Andover Street and Central Street.

Sewer Connections Approved

Sitting as sewer commissioners, the selectmen Monday night approved three "routine" sewer connections, pending the Board of Health's approval.

The sewer connections were approved for John Johnian of 33 High Plain Road, and for 96 and 98 River St., belonging to the T.D.J. Development Corp., part of the "Olympic Village" subdivision.

Licenses, Permits Granted

During a regular meeting at Memorial Hall Library Monday night, the selectmen granted a number of licenses and permits.

The Christian Formation Center, River Road, was granted one-day, all-alcoholic licenses for wedding receptions 6 p.m. to 12 a.m. Aug. 1, 1 to 8 p.m. Aug. 15, 1 to 8 p.m. Aug. 16, 3 to 9 p.m. Aug. 22, 1 to 10 p.m. Aug. 29, 7 p.m. to 12 a.m. Sept. 11, 12 to 7 p.m. Sept. 12, 2 to 8 p.m. Sept. 19, 12 to 8 p.m. Sept. 20; and for a meeting of the Local 1505 I.B.E.W. (Waltham), 1 to 6 p.m. Aug. 23.

Bay State Gas Company was given permission to excavate to install new gas service off River Road for the Koala Inn and in Railroad Street for the Andover Commons; to repair service at 182 North Main St., 87 Chestnut St., 17 Lowell St., 136 Main St., and Main Street at Chestnut; and to replace existing services at 276 North Main St., 193 Highland Ave. and in Punchard Avenue for 98-102 Main St.

Herman Hurwitz of Newton Center was given a one-day auctioneer's license for the sale of oriental rugs at the Sheraton-Rolling Green, Lowell Street, 1 to 6 p.m. Aug. 2.

Hewlett-Packard was granted permission to hold a road race using a 200-yard section of River Road on Aug. 23, subject to the approval of Chief of Police James Johnson.

And the selectmen granted two neighborhoods permission to block off their streets for block parties: Cutler Road, between Oriole and Bateson Drives 4 to 9 p.m. Aug. 15, with a rain date of Aug. 16; and Cross Street, from River Road to Monahan Lane, noon to 8:30 p.m. Aug. 22, with a rain date of the Aug. 23.

Youths Join Air Force Programs

Two Merrimack Valley youths have entered the Air Force Delayed Enlistment Program and are scheduled to depart for basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, TX, on Sept. 28.

Paul James Terry, 19, of 6 Royal Crest Drive, North Andover, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Terry. Terry, a 1980 graduate of Andover High School, has attended Northern Essex Community College. He has been guaranteed training in Air Force electronics.

Bryan David Newman, 19, a 1980 graduate of Andover High School, resides at 33 Farrwood Drive, Andover, with his father, Bryan

Newman. His mother is Mrs. Jacqueline Newman, also of Andover. Newman has been guaranteed training in Air Force electronics.

Summer Tot Programs

Registrations for the final term of summer program for boys and girls ages 3-7 at the Greater Lawrence YMCA Downtown branch are now being accepted. Classes will be held Aug. 3-14 at 8:45, 9:45 and 10:45 a.m. Programs will include swim instruction for children ages 3-5 years. The YMCA Scamper Camp is available for children ages 5-7. Camp program includes swimming, arts and crafts, and gym programs. Scamper Camp options include Option I, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.; Option II, Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 8:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m.; Option III, Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Contact the Greater Lawrence YMCA for further information.

Red Skelton, the comedian, was born July 18, 1913.

ACT To Present Musical

The Andover Community Theatre in conjunction with the Department of Community Services will end its 12th season with a summer production of "Damn Yankees." The musical, which features the songs, "Heart" and "Whatever Lola Wants," portrays how Joe Hardy sells his soul to the devil so that the Washington Senators will win the pennant.

Performances will be held on Friday and Saturday evenings, Aug. 7, 8, and 14, 15, at East Junior High School, Bartlett Street, Andover. Curtain is 8 p.m. Advance tickets are available at the Department of Community Services.

Reports From The Playgrounds

Ballardvale

Monday's weather looked kind of unsure so the ballardvale troops headed up to Sanborn for a day of fun and games. Tuesday some finishing touches were put on pinatas. Jodi and Scott Jangro made a gorgeous pinata with a rainbow color scheme. Wednesday was a field trip to Benson's Wild Animal Farm. Participants included Cindy and Colleen Sherry, Cathy and Angie Giuliani, Jason Olson and the Parker family. Thursday the four square box was decorated with the help of Lisa Hayes, Diane D'Angelo and Katie Roberts. The third week of playground ended with cupcake decorating and a cookout.

Bancroft

Bancroft started their action-packed week with a trip to Pumps Pond where Anthony Russo and J.J. Salvia demonstrated their talent for building sand castles. Danny, Matt McVicker and Jackie went canoeing and somehow learned to travel backwards while paddling "forwards." Debra Soreff, Greg DeBeer and Matt S. were among those who enjoyed the trip to Benson's Wild Animal Farm, while Jimmy, Johnny Saalfrank and Matt showed their speed while doing the obstacle course. The "come as you are day" was a huge success, thanks to Kirsten Bergel, Scott DiGrigorio, Brandon McCue, Laura Ladd, Stephanie Wilson, Jennifer Wilson and all who participated. Everyone is looking forward to the Hawaiian Day scheduled for next week!

Bancroft Pre-School

The calendar was turned ahead by celebrating Halloween with bobbing for apples, munching donuts-on-a-string and the scariest ghosts ever seen. Costumes were worn by all. Steven Hosmer came with a royal crown and Sarah Weir was dressed like a queen. They looked just like Prince Charles and Lady Di! All the super heroes visited. Peter Daniels and Kevin O'Brien were Star Wars characters; Doug Emunds and Loc Chanler were Spidermen; Seth Patterson, Andrew Hsu and Ivan Barry were Superman I, II and III. Heidi Cline wore a hyla outfit and Katie McDowell and Mandy Wilson performed "Swan Lake" in their ballet costumes. Peter Bolway was a magical wizard and Kevin and Brian Cronin were really cooking as chefs. It was home on the range for Todd Atanasoff, Patrick Russo and Lucas Lavin as they galloped in as cowboys. Peter Kadocckia was a very bashful green ghost and Ingrid Malmberg and Emily Sedgwick were Kitty Kats. Jeff deBeer scared everyone with his monster costume and Jamie Bellizia was a great train engineer. It's great fun to have two Halloweens a year!! Friday was the "Pigs," "Ducks," "Horses" and "Cows" in a Barn Yard Holler. The "Pigs" won buy everyone did a super job scooping up the candy. Everyone pitched in and made a huge fruit salad which was shared with moms and dads. Next week there will be a Teddy Bear Party and a Birthday Party with a visit to the Peanut Carnival on Wednesday, which should be really nutty!!

Sanborn

After scorching hot weather last week, the playground was very active playing games and making crafts.

Doug Howes and Brian Cronin went on a bike hike to South School, Ballardvale, and an ice cream shop. The cool, breezy weather made for easy traveling. Tim and Jeff Parker, Todd and Mike B., Scott Eggert, Leigh Dellechiaie, Jennifer Fenton, Noel Slobodka, Doug Howes and Jeff Foley went on a tastier trip to the dairy to feed the ducks and have ice cream.

Tim Lin, Matt Anthony and Matt McHendry loved the roller coaster, while Alissa Ginsberg and Mike B. thought the ferris wheel was the best ride at Benson's Wild Animal Farm. Friday was the weekly cookout with everything cooked to perfection.

Sanborn Pre-School

Sanborn Pre-school got off to a great start with popcorn making, tie dye and many other fun activities including a field trip to Benson's Wild Animal Farm, where Micheal McCarthy and Christopher Dunn dared the mighty roller coaster. Erin McConville, Matt McCarthy, Eillen Duly and Ted Friedenson along with two counselors and others crammed into a picture booth. Jennie Bradway and Andrew Shulman took an exciting ride on the ferris wheel and Mary Driscoll took a Safari ride on the train through the wilds of Benson's.

Shawsheen

The third week of playground at Shawsheen was just as successful as the first two. Although the Shawsheen playground doesn't have the population of the larger playgrounds, they make up for it with tremendous enthusiasm.

Monday opened with a skillfully played game of four square. A few of the big winners were Kelly Ross, Greg Peters and Peter Misenti. Tuesday a great game of hockey was played with some of the stars being Mark Peters and Paul Bellevance. Wednesday was artists' day with Aimee Ross and Jeremy Kahan as some of the premier artists. The week wound down with basketball. Basketball stars included Chris Harding and Todd Patti.

South

Southie was off to another booming week starting with some collage work and button jars. Kelsay Henry came up with the most original one. The trip to Benson's was another successful event. Michelle and Nicole Gorton found the rides very exciting. Stephen McNulty found the roller coaster scary, but exciting.

Thursday was "come as you are day." Awards were given for the following: Most Helpful, Ann Murnane; Most Awake, Jeff Fluhr; Champ Muffin Eater, Dave Corbett; Pancake King, Joey Liquori; Best P.J.'s, Susie Doucette; Most Tired, Andy Frankenberger; Sleepiest, Leighann Catanzaro; Best Slippers, Jonah Corneau. Featured next week will be a four square tournament.

offensive drive by rapping in a triple and a double, and his brother, Freddie, who made several outstanding defensive plays during the game. The "Bluejays" and the "Rainbow Kids" topped off SPARC's kick-ball season in close competition. Tricia Stanat and Joanne Connors were captains. Becky Richmond, on the mound, pitched a close game with the help of Nancy Nestor on third base. Glen McVicar was an outstanding first baseman, but Richard Lally's grand slam proved to be too much for them to handle.

A field trip on Wednesday, July 9, took SPACR to Recreation Park. Everyone was so inspired after viewing the comedy of Clown Chowder that they grease painted their faces and celebrated all the way to Poms Pond. The swim instructors barely recognized Pam McEvoy or Pedro Pimental as he hopped off the town bus for swim instruction. But as the sun glowed and the temperature rose, anyone gazing out on the shiny water saw Laurie Gal-agher and Julie Sullivan practicing their flutter kicks, and Rusty and Jon Leonard diving from the raft. SPARC enjoyed the cooling splash. SPARC looks forward to a summer of drama, new games, music, cooking and field trips.

West

A trip to Benson's Wild Animal Farm in Hudson, N.H., was the feature of the third week of playground. Youngsters who went on the field trip had a great time with the animals and rides. The winners of the round-up obstacle course were: girls under 10—Jennifer Milne; boys under 10—Matt Orlando; girls over 10—Micaila Corkery; boys over 10—first, Dana Orlando; second, Chris Lane. Overall playground course winner was Micaela Corkery who set a new record of 33 seconds.

Playground of the week on account of their braveness were Chris Lane and Mark Selvellitto.

Accredited

The School of Medical Technology at the Lawrence General Hospital has been granted continuing accreditation until 1984 for the training of ten students annually by The American Medical Association's committee on allied health education and accreditation.

This award of accreditation was made upon recommendation received from the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Sciences, which in turn is sponsored by the American Society of Clinical Pathologists and the American Society for Medical Technology.

The school at Lawrence General Hospital opened in 1947 under the direction of Leslie S. Jolliffe, M.D., and was first accredited that year. In the late 60s, stringent standards were developed and formal classes were initiated. Currently, students spend mornings on the rotating tutorial basis in the laboratory while afternoons are spent in formal classes.

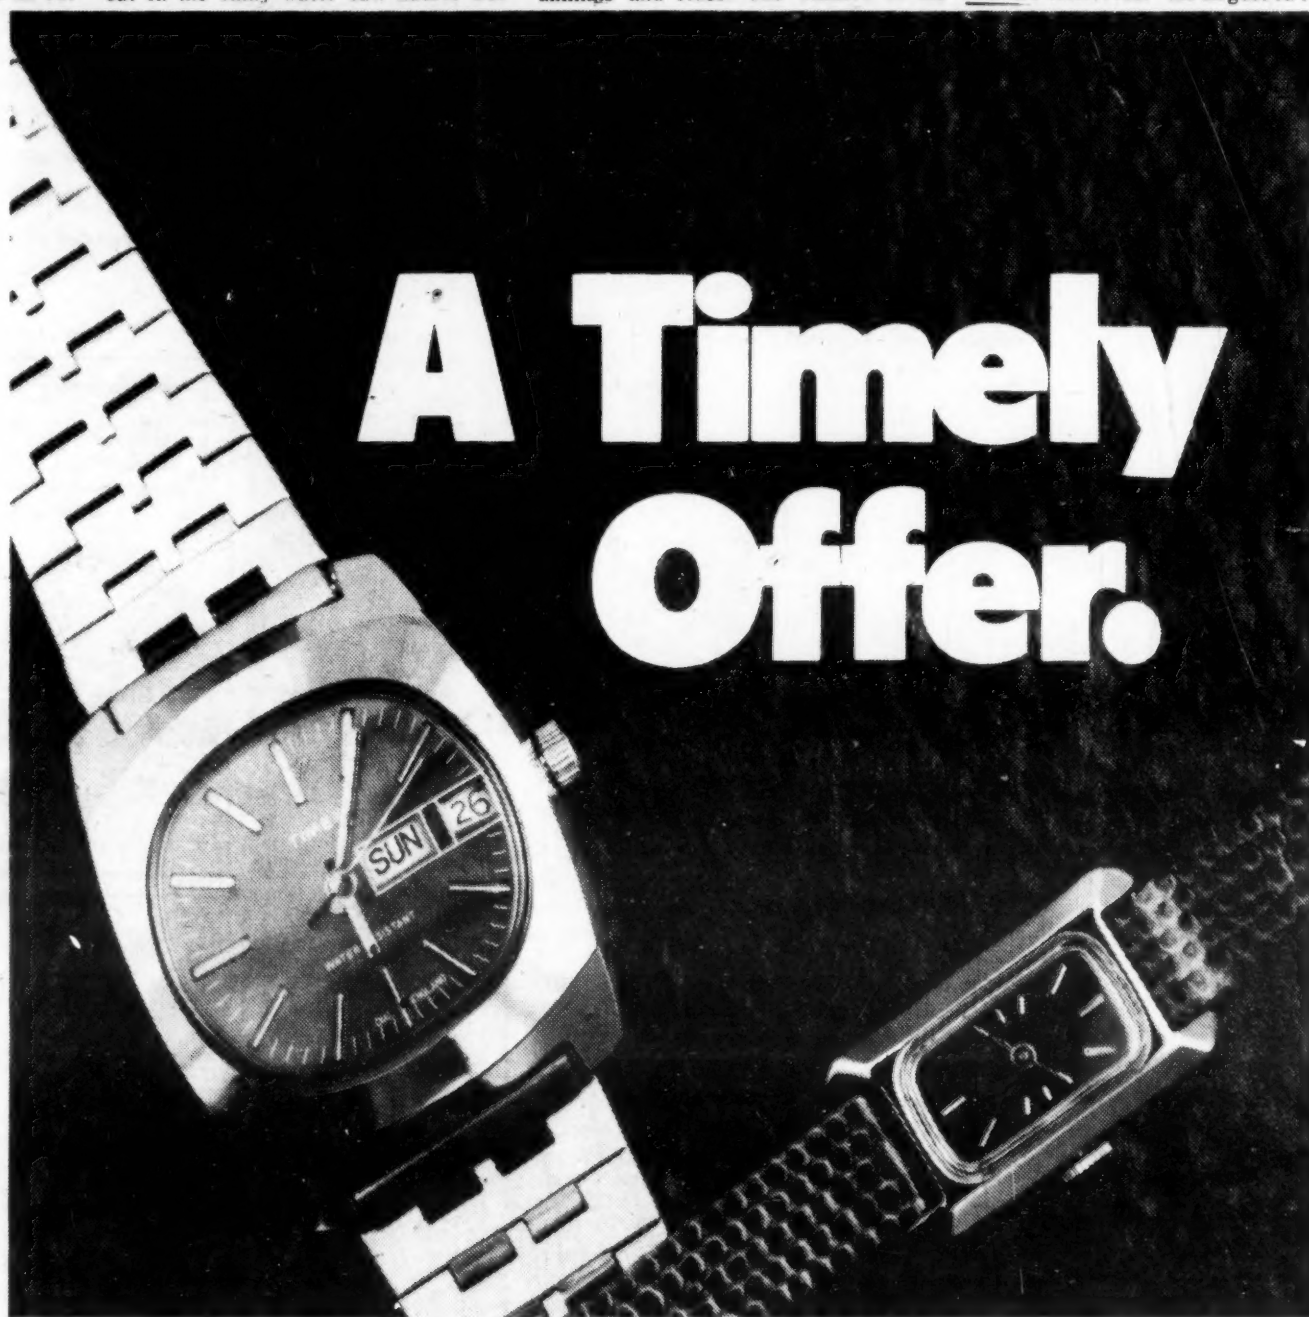

LGH is one of 800 hospitals in the nation approved for such training by the council on medical education of the American Medical Association.

Blood Pressure

The Regional Health Center in Billerica, 76 Treble Cove Road, will be offering free blood pressure screenings Thursday, Aug. 6, from 9 a.m.-11 a.m. No appointment is necessary. Report to the Multi-Phase Health Screening office.

High blood pressure is a condition which increases the work of the heart and is the single most important single risk factor for heart attack and stroke. The condition can be controlled in a variety of ways, depending on the severity of the case—medication, diet, weight control and exercise. However, as there are no outward signs, the only way to detect high blood pressure is by actually having your blood pressure taken.

Going, Going, Gone Whaling

The Department of Community Services and the Poobley Greegy Puppet Theater are presenting the puppet show, "Going, Going, Gone Whaling," on Wednesday, Aug. 5, at Bancroft School at 11 a.m. "Going, Going, Gone Whaling" is the story of 16-year-old Abner Wimpenny who goes to sea in the whaling ship, Cachalot, out of New Bedford in 1877 and of a baby sperm whale learning the ways of whales from its mother deep in the ocean. Unfortunately, after three weeks at sea, Abner spots the whale family and is made to confront them by stern Captain Slocum with his secret weapon, an experimental harpoon gun. Abner eventually returns home having learned that whaling is not for him and that substitutes have been found for the whale products the ship was after.

The Poobley Greegy Puppet Theater specializes in presenting shows that entertain and instruct elementary school children. Maintaining a studio in Boston, the puppet theater travels to communities throughout New England to play before 50,000 people a year.

Commission selected the theater to dramatize Henry Knox's historic trek-bringing cannon to Boston to drive out the British. The resulting show, "Hard Knox," toured the state's elementary schools for two years, under the commission's auspices and partially funded by the federal government. The next production, "The Dinosaur Show," which received a grant from Polaroid, gave elementary school audiences a taste of the excitement and meaning of the scientist's quest for dinosaur remains in the American west of the 1870s. The puppet theater has since offered "The King Who Moved a President," an American history show commissioned by the Kennedy Presidential Library, and "Going, Going, Gone Whaling."

The Poobley Greegy puppeteers are Janice and Stephen Babcock, both former teachers, who research the material, write the scripts, make the puppets and stage, compose the music and perform the show. As a boy, Stephen put on puppet shows and, with his wife, Janice, began making puppets 14 years ago. They were persuaded to put on a show and have been performing professionally for the past

On Exhibit

"The Picnic Excursion" by Winslow Homer is among the "Images of Summer" on exhibit at Andover Gallery during the month of August. The show will include work by a number of artists; paintings by Fred Faudie, etchings by Michael Jacques, silkscreens by Janvier Lange and Anne MacDougall, and others. Also on exhibit will be the gallery's Annual Summer Antique Print Show. Included in this group will be many charming children's engravings. The show will be on view Aug. 5 through Sept. 4. The gallery is located at 91 North Main St., Andover. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 9-5, closed Sunday and Monday, and is free and open to the public.

Exhibit At Aquarium

"Reflections on a New England Pond," a new exhibit at the New England Aquarium, recreates the life, sounds and smells of a pond.

The drama and constantly changing character of a pond is highlighted in the Aquarium exhibit with live exhibits, graphic panels, recorded sounds and simulated "woodsy" odors.

A myriad of aquatic life is reflected in the exhibits. Animals so small they can scarcely be seen who live active productive lives; insects, the most abundant and widespread of all land animals and the only invertebrates able to fly; carnivorous plants that trap and digest insects and small animals to maintain life; frogs and turtles which live on land or in the water; sports fish, small but tasty for the fisherman who can land them; and crayfish and clams which are freshwater relatives of the lobster.

A Spanish Festival, featuring ethnic foods, exhibits and entertainment, will be held July 25 at Derby Square Salem. Free; all day.

inadequate. Torrasi remarked that "from Andover's standpoint, the formula for increasing state aid is a very practical formula to be used."

The formula will offset about 50 percent of the town's losses under Proposition 2½, he explained. "It's hard to be dissatisfied with that," Torrasi commented. "It's what we've been looking for all along — for the state to share the impact of 2½ with the communities."

Torrasi rebutted a recent report in the Boston Globe that the local aid formula will reimburse Andover for more than 100 percent of its losses under Proposition 2½. "Their figures did not include our motor vehicle excise tax losses," he pointed out.

The state budget includes a record $265 million in new aid, meant to compensate for budget cutbacks cities and towns have suffered under Proposition 2½.

Debate over how much aid the state would offer to municipalities in the wake of 2½ was a major reason the House, Senate and governor could not agree on the state budget, finally passed three weeks after the fiscal year began.

Final figures will not be available until they are run through state computers and forwarded to the town, Torrasi indicated, but it seems certain that Andover will receive from $475,000 to $680,000.

The $28 million town and school budget passed by 1981 town meeting is within the limitations of the tax-cutting Proposition 2½, he added, so the town will not be required to reduce its tax levy.

the worried Washington Park tenants. No units have actually been sold to date, he said, and until a sale is recorded at the Registry of Deeds, the town can not take steps to stop the conversion.

"When the first deed is recorded, then the selectmen will have a decision to make. We'll discuss it then," Daniels said. "But there has been no official act of conversion until a unit is sold and recorded in the registry."

When questioned about the problems that could face tenants who purchase units, town counsel predicted. "Everybody's going to have a nice legal problem."

He suggested that tenants who plan to sign purchase and sale agreements consult an attorney for legal advice "so if there is an overturning, these people don't get burned." Those facing eviction should also seek legal help, he added.

The town has filed suit against the attorney general's ruling in Salem Superior Court. Bellotti's response to the suit is expected July 29, Daniels said. He has indicated that the appeal could be heard in the state supreme court this fall.

Daniels cautioned the Washington Park residents that he has little hope the one-year notice aspect of the bylaw will be upheld, even if the town wins the appeal. That notice period was added to the bylaw on the floor of town meeting by the residents; Daniels had advised against it at the time.

Selectman Edward Harris added that the selectmen had intended to add a fee to the special permit for conversion as a deterrent to developers. Harris suggested a $500 fee, but Daniels suggested that the fee be kept in line with the fee for obtaining a building permit — approximately one percent of the selling price.

With Chairman Norma Gammon absent, the board voted unanimously to add that fee to the condominium conversion permit, if the courts uphold the town's bylaw.

Babson

Elizabeth D. Finn

Stephen K. Savrann

Two local residents were among the approximately 350 graduates who received the bachelor of science degree in business administration from Babson College, Wellesley, recently during the school's 62nd annual commencement exercises.

Another 440 students were awarded master's degrees in business administration.

Stephen K. Savrann of 11 Sheridan Road, Andover, and Elizabeth D. Finn of 139

Quail Run Lane, North Andover, were among the graduates awarded their degrees by College President Dr. Ralph Sorrenson.

Lewis E. Lehrman, chairman of the executive committee of Rite Aid Corp. and chairman of the board and president of the Lehrman Institute, gave the commencement address. Lehrman also received an honorary doctor of laws degree from the college.

Our Lady Of Nazareth

Three Andover residents were members of the 35th graduating class of Our Lady of Nazareth Academy, Wakefield, honored during recent commencement exercises at the school.

Lisa Marie Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Reynolds of 50 Wildwood Road, was recognized during the ceremony as president of the senior class, co-captain of the basketball team and co-captain of the softball team. She also received the Coach's Award for basketball and the Most Valuable Player award for softball.

Reynolds was also junior class president, and participated in musical productions, the athletic committee and the student council. She plans to attend Regis College in the fall.

Carla Maria Rizzo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Rizzo of 30 Hemlock Road, was a member of the baccalaureate committee during her senior year. She also participated in the choral club, pep club and ski club. Rizzo plans to attend the University of Vermont to study human nutrition and foods.

And Sarah Ann Baun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Baun of 14 Lockway Road, plans to pursue studies in the field of special education at Fitchburg State College.

The commencement exercises began with a mass celebrated by Reverend James Hickey of Saint Agnes Church, Reading. Following the mass, Sister Mary Ellen, SCN, Ms. Dale Haywood and Mrs. Carol Kelly-Suleski presented the candidates for graduation. Sister Mary Angela Shaughnessy, SCN, principal, conferred the diplomas.

Dana Hall

Pamela Bliss French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert French, 111 Highland Road, Andover, was graduated from Dana Hall School.

Miss French was active in the Riding Club, of which she was president, tour guides, French club and chamber music, while a student at the Wellesley school. She was also president of the Blue Keys and served as a proctor.

On Honor Roll

Andover residents Sarah Rochwarg of Wildwood Road and Cheryl Ann Taft of Argilla Road have been named to the honor roll at Lesley College, Cambridge, for the spring semester.

Wellesley

Anne M. Wiseman

Anne M. Wiseman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wiseman, 5 Stinson Road, Andover, was one of 521 young women to receive the B.A. degree from Wellesley College in Wellesley on May 29.

A graduate of Phillips Academy, she majored in political science and French, receiving departmental honors for her thesis, "Translations From the Works of F. Scott Fitzgerald and Rafael Pividal." She graduated a Wellesley Scholar (maintaining a 3.33 GPA).

While at Wellesley, she was a resident advisor, a French department tutor, and a student alumnae representative for the Admissions Office. Wiseman was also a member of the Trustee Nominating Committee, the French Theatre Group and the intramural crew team.

Pulitzer Prize winning Boston Globe

columnist Ellen Goodman spoke at the commencement exercises, the 103rd since Wellesley College was founded in 1875.

Father, Son Gets Diplomas

William "Bill" Rogers and son, Mark "Marcus" W. Rogers, both received diplomas this year. Marcus graduated from Andover High School and is presently assistant manager at "My Brother's Place" in Andover.

Mark was all star player on Christ Church Playoff Basketball Championship team scoring over 20 points per game as well as all around athlete on the Red Sox championship Little League team and the championship Andover Cosmos soccer team. He played Little League football and has received a scholarship to go to T.M.I. Institute at Burlington.

Bill has earned his Master's degree in Education Administration (minor in Occupational Education) from Northeastern University in Boston where he has earned his Undergraduate degree in Business Administration as well as an Associate in Traffic and Transportation.

Bill is a lecturer in Transportation at Northeastern's University College as well as being a traffic administrator at Nixdorf Computer Corporation in North Reading. He has been active in community affairs, being a town coordinator for a local congressman and former president of the Andover Church Basketball League and was on the board of directors of the same for Christ Church team as church sports coordinator.

An interesting sidelight is that his daughter, Gail, also a graduate of Andover High School and who has acquired her LPN at Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational School, is a candidate for an Arts and Science Degree at Northeastern University.

The Rogers family, which also includes wife, Shirley, and children, John and Nancy, reside at 186 High Plain Road.

Close cousins from the flower and vegetable gardens are the sweet potato and the morning glory.

Scholarships Available At Lowell

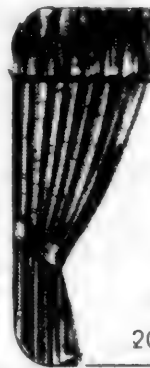

Andover high school students are eligible for one of 14 scholarships in the radiological sciences programs of the Physics and Applied Physics Department of the University of Lowell.

The scholarships include 12 $300 awards and two $1,000 scholarships to be awarded to freshmen entering the Radiological Health Physics Baccalaureate Degree Program. According to Dr. Edward L. Alexander, coordinator of the program, the money has been made available by a number of corporations because of the shortage of trained professional personnel in the field of radiation protection, in an effort to attract highly qualified young men and women into the field.

Corporations sponsoring the scholarships include Northeast Utilities Services Co., Hartford, CT; Exxon Nuclear, Bellevue, Wash.; New England Nuclear Corp., Boston; Yankee Atomic Electric Co., Westborough; Technical Operations Inc., Boston; and Boston Edison Co., Boston.

Dr. Alexander further explained that to be eligible for the $300 awards, a student must successfully complete the first year of study in the program. The two highest ranking students will then be awarded the $1,000 grants.

Further information is available by contacting Dr. Alexander at the Radiological Sciences Program, Physics and Applied Physics Department, University of Lowell.

'How To Study' Course Is Offered At YMCA

Statistics show that one of every four freshmen who enters college this fall will not make it to the sophomore year. And,

Fanshawe

Lisa Baker

Lisa Baker, the daughter of Donald and Luziana Gardener of 249 South Main St., became the fourth woman to graduate from the electronics technician program at Fanshawe College, London, Ontario, earlier this spring.

She was the only woman in this year's graduating class for the program, as well as the valedictorian for adult-retraining programs.

In her convocation address, Baker predicted that despite resistance to women working in jobs traditionally held by men, in the future women will form a significant portion of the blue-collar work force.

only 35-40 percent of the entering freshmen will graduate in four years from their college of entry. Educators know these percentages can be improved if more freshmen are properly prepared for the campus experience.

That's why two Purdue University professors developed the "How to Study in College" course that's being offered by the Andover-North Andover YMCA next week.

Bob Lavoie reminds college-bound students from the area that the deadline for registration is 9 p.m., July 24. High school graduates who wish to be assured of a place in the class are urged to register immediately by visiting the YMCA office which is open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Students are asked to arrive early on Monday evening to complete their registration.

"The first year of college is commonly the crucial year," R.F. Schwarz, Purdue University professor and author of the course, said. "This course, which we are so pleased to offer the college-bound students from the Merrimack Valley area, is designed to prepare them for that freshman experience—to provide them with the practical information, the basic skills, the inside tips and the confidence that will give them that all-important head start on campus. It can be a confusing environment for the college beginner. This course is tailored to overcome that problem, and to make the transition from high school to college a pleasant one and a successful one."

He emphasized that the course is of benefit to good students as well as marginal ones.

This one-week, four-evening course will be held July 27-30 from 7-9:30 p.m. at the Merrimack Library Auditorium. For further information, contact Bob Lavoie at the YMCA.

On Dean's List

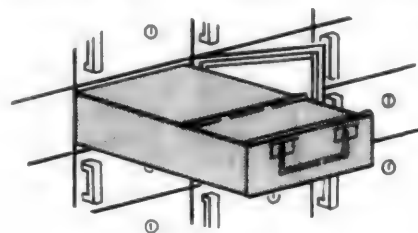

The following Andover students have attained Dean's List honors for the spring semester at Merrimack College:

HARRY CHAPIN

Harry Chapin was a warm, friendly, personal and compassionate individual; he also happened to be a poet lyricist and balladeer. The depth of his compassion was evidenced by his fervent endeavors on behalf of world hunger relief, and they shall stand forever as a testament to his commitment and belief in people.

We are going to continue these efforts in his memory and in a small way invite everyone's participation; your generosity has already been appreciated. Each month our contributions will be donated to an organization concerned with world hunger relief such as Project Bread, Food Monitor and Sister Theresa of India.

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

How do you convince your children to eat fresh fruits instead of sugary, processed snack foods? This a problem that we all face, and one that deserves serious attention. Perhaps we should consider the fact that children seem to want what they can't have and resist those things that we know they should eat. Try the "take-away" system. Buy a variety of fresh fruits, wash them thoroughly and set them out in a basket. Tell your children that these fruits are not for them, but for grownups, or for you in conjunction with your diet. Reward positive behavior with a piece of fresh fruit and, over a period of time, they will come to associate the fruit with your approval.

The end result will be a change in attitude toward fruit, and your children will learn to enjoy it in place of sweet, processed foods. This will be an extremely beneficial change in your children's eating habits that are now being formed for the rest of their lives.

Outing Scheduled

The Fourth Annual Big Brother/Big Sister Summer Outing will take place on Sunday, Aug. 2, at Forest Lake, Methuen, from 10:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m. All Big Brothers/Big Sisters, little brothers/little sisters, children on the waiting list and their families and board members are invited to come for a day of swimming, games, a cookout and prizes for the children.

The Big Brother/Big Sister Association serves children from single-parent families. The aim is to provide special long-term friendships with adult volunteers. Youngsters gain self-esteem through the knowledge that Big Brothers/Big Sisters are not paid to spend time with a child—but choose to do so.

The need for more volunteer Big Brothers/Big Sisters is great. For application information, call or visit the BB/BS office at 430 No. Canal St., Lawrence.

Concert

Jon Stemkoski's Celebrant Singers, a nationally known Christian singing group headquartered in Visalia, CA, will present a concert of contemporary Gospel music on Friday, Aug. 14, at 8:15 p.m. at St. Anthony Shrine, 100 Arch St., Boston.

Their two-hour musical celebration entitled "Give Him Praise" is an inspiring presentation including contemporary sounds with fresh, new arrangements, smooth choral selections, gospel songs, hymn arrangements, praise songs and worship choruses, combined with personal witness and sharing. In addition, Stemkoski (or one of his associates) will bring a special message.

Members of the group come from 14 different states and are chosen from hundreds of nationwide auditions. Composed of ten singers, a ten-piece orchestra, lighting and sound technicians and featuring sign language for the deaf, the Celebrant Singers are a musical ministry team.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip S. Deming

Deming—James

Nancy Helen James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. James of Ipswich, was married June 20 in Christ Episcopal Church, Hamilton, to Philip Schuyler Deming, son of Mrs. George Edward Deming of Philadelphia, PA, and Longport, N.J., and the late Mr. Deming.

Reverend Mark J. Dyer, rector of Christ Church, performed the ceremony.

Carol Diane James was maid of honor for her sister.

George Edward Deming, III, brother of the groom, served as best man.

The bride wore a gown of organza, designed with a high, illusion neckline and cap sleeves. Appliques of Chantilly lace with pearl beading enhanced the empire bodice. The A-line skirt was bordered with matching lace and joined a wattleau train which was accented with vertical lace panels. She wore a matching lace picture hat.

The bride, a graduate from Simmons College in Boston, attended the Pingree School in Hamilton. She is in the management training program of the Girard Bank of Philadelphia.

Her husband, a graduate from Northeastern University in Boston, attended Germantown Academy. He is a special agent with the Philadelphia district office of the U.S. Treasury Department.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Vannett of Andover and the late Mr. and Mrs. Alden C. James of North Andover.

Plimoth

Exhibit

Plimoth Plantation, known for its historically accurate re-creation of the 1627 Pilgrim Village, will exhibit period-correct animals at the Barnstable Fair, July 22 to 26.

Researching the Inventories and Wills of early Plymouth colonists, staff at Plimoth Plantation determined the kinds of animals used by the Pilgrims in their early settlement.

Since the plantation strives to be historically authentic in its exhibits, the Exhibits Department began last winter to successfully find animals correct to the period for its village program.

This season visitors there no longer see contemporary Rhode Island Reds, but five-toed English strains of poultry: silver gray dorkings, silver-spangled hamburgs, old English and salmon favorolles.

Other breeds correct to the period in the village this season include lineback cattle, Wiltshire-Dorset Sheep, grade goats, Tamworth pigs and a Dartmoor pony.

Air Conditioners

If you're installing window air conditioners, try to put them in central, rather than corner windows. If possible, choose a window on the shady or north side of your home. If the sun hits the unit directly, the air conditioner will have a harder time getting rid of the heat.

Dorothy A. Romano

To Wed In June

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Romano, 4 Sweeney Court, Andover, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy A. Romano, to James L. Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Peters, 16 Fairmeadow Road, Wilmington.

Miss Romano is a graduate of Andover High school and is currently attending Merrimack College, majoring in medical technology. She is employed as a part-time secretary/phlebotomist at Damon Laboratories, Andover.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Austin Preparatory school, Reading and is employed as a lithographer for Wright Co., Cambridge.

A June wedding is planned.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

Jagot D. Lake

Today, July 23, is the deadline for the purchase of tickets for the Andover Council on Aging annual Day in the Park, July 27, at the Bird Sanctuary at Phillips Academy. Tickets will be available today at $2.50 for the last day. Stop by The Haven to pick yours up. The cost includes a delightful day of typical summer activities and a chicken dinner.

You were warned and, if you have not signed up for the Boston Harbor cruise, you are too late! Even the second bus is full!

And you had better not delay in signing up for the Sept. 11 theater trip to enjoy the "Friends of Lawrence Welk." On the way to the theater the group will stop for luncheon at the King's Grant Motor Inn with a choice of roast beef or chicken... and all for $18. But the lists are filling fast.

Another theater party is scheduled for Aug. 26—the production of that Lerner and Loewe spectacular "Camelot" starring Richard Harris. This Wednesday matinee will cost $22, but includes transportation and orchestra seats. You'll love it! Don't delay. Sign up today!

The Council on Aging is sponsoring a series of mini-trips, accommodating only 10 or 11 people in The Haven van. This week they travelled to visit the Lowell canals and next week they will go to Lowell again for an "Overview of Lowell—the Spindle City." Cost is $2 to cover cost of transportation. Keep watch on future trips as well as signing up for next Wednesday's trip to Lowell. Numbers are limited.

The next mini-clinic will be Tuesday, July 28, at Frye Circle. You must make an appointment by calling the Andover Health Department at 475-7820. In addition to the mini-clinic on Tuesdays, Andover's public health nurses are at the center—The Haven—every Wednesday afternoon from 2 to 3 p.m. for consultation and blood pressure checks. No appointment is necessary for this Wednesday afternoon service.

You are reminded that all through the summer there are the regular activities at The Haven which you are invited to enjoy in air-conditioned comfort. The center is open each weekday from 9-4, and transportation, to and from, can be arranged by calling the Weebus at 475-4310. It only costs 25 cents each way, for door to door transportation.

House Opens

The Essex Institute announces the opening of the Clement-Derby-Beebe Summer House on June 17. Restored by the maintenance department under the meticulous direction of superintendent Paul Ducey, the summer house (c.1800) will be formally opened at a reception for members and guests to be held in the Crowinshield Gardens from 4:30 - 6:30 p.m. on June 16.

Due to extensive wood deterioration, the building has required over two years to restore. The summer house with its fine McIntire-style Federal details, enhances the Institute's distinguished collection of historic buildings representing the major stylistic periods in Salem's architectural development to the mid-19th century.

The Beebe Summer House will be open to the public from June 17 with no admission fee. It joins the Vaughn Doll House, Lye-Tapley Shoe shop and Pingree Barn carriage display as tourist attractions.

State House Tour

Free, 45-minute walking tours of the State House are held Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Arrangements can be made to meet legislators. Advance reservations requested for groups of 10; through the Secretary of State's Office.

Singers Workshop Scheduled

For the second consecutive year, the North Parrish Choral Society is offering a unique musical experience to its members and to all interested adult singers. Under the direction of Marie and Richard Stultz, a Singers Workshop will be given at the Union Congregational Church on Haverhill Street, North Reading, each evening from 7:30-9:30, Aug. 17 through Aug. 21.

Participants will sing through such repertoire as the "Missa Brevis" by Mozart, "Sing Unto the Lord" by Purcell, "Winter on Avon" by Stultz and varied Early Music selections including many trios and duets. Under the guidance of the Stultz team, vocal production and technique, music history and beginning theory will be explored. An informal concert will be given on Aug. 21 for family and friends and will be open to the public.

If interested in participating in the Singers Workshop, contact manager, Nancy Ferretti of North Reading, or treble chorus advisor, Judy Forgione of Burlington.

Homer Prints

Some 35 Winslow Homer woodblock prints and the Gustave Dore woodcuts from the "London Pilgrimage" of 1872 are featured at the Geraci Galleries, 6 South St., Rockport, this summer. The Homer prints, from Harper's Weekly and other publications between 1859 and 1874, are generally "open" with sunlight and space. The Dore works show London as a city of "dreadful night," where factory and mill workers lived in slumlocked horror.

Memorial Hall Library

The Great Bronze Age Of China

Coinciding with the opening of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts west wing this week, Memorial Hall Library is exhibiting books on the Great Bronze Age of China from the library's own extensive oriental art collection. The museum's outstanding exhibit on the Bronze Age "puts the Museum of Fine Arts back into international major leagues," according to the Boston Globe. Patrons are reminded that the library has free passes to the Museum of Fine Arts, available to Andover residents, which may be reserved by phone or in person at the circulation desk.

For Readers With Vision Problems

Memorial Hall Library has recently received 30 new large print novels including "Come Pour the Wine" by Freeman, "Congo" by Crichton, "Tenth Commandment" by Sanders and "Innocent Blood" by P.D. James. The new arrivals also include several titles by popular authors Barbara Cartland and Emilie Loring. The library's extensive large print collection may be found on the main floor behind the circulation desk. In addition, several new books-on-tape have arrived recently. If you do not have a cassette player at home, you may also borrow this equipment through the reference librarian.

Summer Is Book Reading Time At Ballardvale

Ruth Sharpe, Ballardvale librarian, reminds all school children and young adults that it is not too late to join the Ballardvale summer reading programs. Drop by the branch library at 195 Andover St. on Mondays and Thursdays from 2-5 and 6-8 p.m. for further details.

Children's Room By Katie Busch

Summer fun continues in the Children's Room with the feature film, "My Side of the Mountain," on Wednesday, July 29, at 2 p.m. Based on the book by Jean Craighead George, it is the moving story of a young naturalist who sets out to live in the wild with a pet falcon. Free tickets will be available 1 1/2 hour before the program and parents may plan to pick up their children at 3:45 p.m.

The Thursday afternoon crafts program on July 30 will feature wood sculpture. Starting at 2 p.m., children ages 6 to 10 are invited to come and enjoy an hour of creativity using wood, glue and imagination.

For all those children who are participating in the summer reading program, don't forget to come in and add new stars to your constellation charts! The Children's Room is already sparkling with stars representing books read this summer and, as we enter the final three weeks of the program, new participants are urged to sign up for their charts soon.

Book Of The Week

The featured reference book this week at Memorial Hall Library is "The Audubon Society Encyclopedia of North American Birds," a monumental work with rich, concise, authoritative, illustrated information. There are over 625 major topics such as courtship, flight and migration plus the life histories of 847 types of birds. The result of a lifetime study by naturalist John K. Terres, the encyclopedia can be consulted with confidence and read with delight.

The pear, plum quince and cherry are all members of the rose family. Their leaves and flowers all are the same type as those of the wild rose.

T. Edwin Andrew

T. Edwin Andrew, 65, 250 North Main St., Andover, former owner and operator of F.M. and T.E. Andrew Insurance Co., Lawrence died July 15, at his home following a long illness.

Born in Methuen, he was educated in schools there and attended Norwich University for two years, before receiving a degree from Dartmouth in 1936. He retired ten years ago from the F.M. and T.W. Andrew Co. He was a member of the Board of Directors of the Valley Cooperative Bank, Lawrence; was past master of Tuscan Lodge AF & AM, Lawrence, a member of all Scottish Rites in Lawrence and Aleppo Temple A.A.O.N.M.S., Wilmington. He was a member of Grace Episcopal Church, Lawrence.

He is survived by his wife, Leola (Patterson) Andrew; a son, T. Edwin, III of Methuen; daughters, Mrs. Glenn L. (Helen J.) Scoggins of Lake Barrington, Ill., and Miss Carole L. Andrew of Philadelphia, Pa.; five grandchildren, one great granddaughter and several nieces and nephews.

Private funeral services under the direction of the Dewhurst Funeral Home, 80 Broadway, Methuen, were held.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Lung Association, or the charity of one's choice.

Andrew Campbell

Andrew Campbell, 70, 135 Abbot St., Andover, died Friday at Lawrence General Hospital, following a long illness.

Born in Gillespie, Ill., he was a veteran of World War II, having served with the U.S. Army, 106th Division. He was an agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. and retired in 1972. He was a drummer with the Clan MacPherson Bagpipe Band for many years and was a member of Clan MacPherson and the Andover Sportsman's Club. He attended Free Christian Church.

He is survived by his wife, Hazel I. (White) Campbell; a daughter, Mrs. Alexander (Margaret) Thomson, Jr., of Andover; a son, John A., of Andover; a brother, William Campbell of Dracut; a sister, Mrs. Nan Coombs of Scotland, four grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Monday at Free Christian Church. Burial was in Spring Grove Cemetery.

Daniel J. Doyle

Daniel J. Doyle, 72, 30 Surfside Road, Lynn, a former resident of Andover, died Saturday at Lynn Hospital, following a long illness.

Born in Andover, he was educated in the Andover schools and was a graduate of Pynchard High School and Dean Academy, Franklin. While at Pynchard, he was captain of the football and baseball teams and played both sports at Dean Academy. He had resided in Lynn for the past 35 years. He had been employed in the rug department at Raymond's Department Store in Lynn prior to his retirement after many years of service. He also had been employed by Kresge's Five and Dime Store in Lynn.

The widower of Mary F. (O'Lair) Doyle, who died June 9, 1981, he is survived by daughters, Miss Barbara A. Doyle and Mrs. Ernest (Mary "Kay") Spaulding, both of Lynn; grandchildren, Ernest, Jr.,

Daniel and Cheryl Spaulding, all of Lynn; one great granddaughter, one niece and one nephew.

A Mass was offered Tuesday in St. Augustine's Church, Andover. Burial was in St. Augustine's Cemetery, Andover.

Carillon Recital At Academy

The fourth in the summer carillon recitals will be on Tuesday, July 28, at 7 p.m. at Memorial Tower, corner of Main and Salems Streets, Andover. The 37-bell, Samuel Lester Fuller carillon will be played by Frank Griesinger, carillonneur of St. Christopher-by-the-River Episcopal Church, Gates Mills, Ohio. Griesinger, a member of the Guild of Carillonneurs in North America, is a specialist in music for two-octave carillon. The recital, free of charge, will take place rain or shine. Bring blankets or lawn chairs, or in case of rain, listen from your parked car. Picnics are invited. Printed programs will be available in the stand at the tower door. More information about this series of Tuesday evening recitals may be had by calling the academy. The deadline for submitting requests for the final recital is Friday, July 31.

The "Whites of Their Eyes," the multimedia re-enactment of the Battle of Bunker Hill, is shown on the half hour, 9:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Special rates for families at the Bunker Hill Pavilion, Charlestown.

To Appear At Methuen Music Hall

Jeffrey Pierce

On Wednesday evening, July 29, the summer series of organ recitals will continue at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall at 8:30 p.m. with a concert by Jeffrey Pierce.

Pierce received his bachelor of music degree from Oberlin Conservatory of Music and his master's degree from the New England Conservatory of Music. He has studied organ with Haskell Thomson and Yuko Hayashi and harpsichord with Lisa Crawford. His background includes directing music theater productions as well as performing on piano and harpsichord.

Pierce lives in Boston, where he is organist at St. Stephen's Catholic Church and teaches privately.

For his program, Pierce will present the following selections: Fantasia and Fugue in C Minor, BWV 537 and Trio-Sonata No. 6 in G Major - Johann Sebastian Bach; Choral No. 2 in B Minor - Cesar Franck; Symphonie III, Intermezzo - Louis Vierne; and Variations on Weinen, Klagen, Sorgen, Zagen - Franz Liszt.

The organ, originally belonging to the Boston Music Hall and later purchased by Edward F. Searles, passed through many hands upon his death. In April of 1946 a group of citizens of Methuen acquired title to the hall and organ. They established a permanent corporation to preserve and maintain their acquisition as a civic and cultural center. After an extensive tonal reconstruction of the organ by G. Donald Harrison of the Aeolian-Skinner Organ Co., the building was reopened in 1947 as the Methuen Memorial Music Hall. Since that time the Board of Trustees has presented hundreds of well known organists for the enjoyment of music lovers.

Admission is $4 at the door, $1 for children. The Music Hall is located on Broadway (Route 28) in Methuen. Off street parking is available adjacent to the building.

The next concert will be given by George Butler on August 5

Dickey Named Manager

David R. Dickey has joined Deloitte Haskins & Sells, Manchester, N.H., as a manager.

Before joining the international accounting firm, Dickey was a manager with Arthur Young & Co. for five years. Previously, he worked for Caribou Fisheries, Inc.

Dickey is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Massachusetts Society of CPAs and the Illinois Society of CPAs. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Hamilton college in Clinton, N.Y., in 1972 and his Master of Science degree in 1974 from the University of Illinois.

He and his wife, Jody Josephson, live at 35 Enmore St., Andover.

Streetlights Reports Requested

You can help conserve electricity by reporting streetlights still on during daylight hours to your local electric company.

Streetlights are turned on and off by a photoelectric cell on top of the lamp. The photocell, or electric eye, is a plastic disc which creates a tiny electric current when sunlight hits it. The electric current switches off the streetlight each morning and on at dusk.

When the photocell wears out, however, the streetlight stays on all day, wasting energy.

"We are alert to streetlights on during daylight hours," says William J. Cadigan, president of Massachusetts Electric Company. "But people can help us replace the worn-out cells much faster. Once notified, we can usually have the failed photocell replaced within a few days as part of our normal streetlight maintenance program."

Cadigan said the photocells should be good for about 5000 operations. When they do fail, it is in the "on" rather than the "off" position, for reasons of public safety. The company has no way of knowing that a light is on during the day unless someone, an employee, customer, or passerby, actually sees the light on and makes a report.

"Many people think that there is a central control somewhere which switches all the lights on at dusk and off at dawn," Cadigan said. "Well, that's long gone. Photocells have been in use for nearly 35 years, and are far more cost effective overall than running a central switching system."

Mass. Electric, which serves 765,000 customers in Massachusetts, owns 168,200 streetlights, which it leases to towns, businesses and individuals.

To report a streetlight still glowing in daylight, contact the customer service office of the electric company serving your community. Your report should include the location of the pole, and if possible, the utility pole number. This number is on a metal strip about 5 feet from the bottom of the pole. (Some poles also carry telephone company numbers.)

Assigned To Sheppard

Airman Mark D. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Anderson of 51 Pleasant St., North Andover, has been assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, TX, after completing Air Force basic training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, TX, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science, through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the aircraft maintenance field.

He is 1980 graduate of Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational High School, Andover.

Truckers Could Assist Interchange Quest

If the truckers who serve industries in Lowell Junction have to find another route into the area, the inconvenience may help Andover win a long-sought Lowell Junction interchange off Route 93. Selectman Donn Byrne has suggested.

Byrne Monday night noted the "tremendous amount of trucks" driving down Clark Road and into Ballardvale to reach the industrial area at Lowell Junction. That commercial traffic should not be allowed on the narrow residential streets, he said.

The selectman suggested that trucks be made to travel from Route 93 to Route 125 to reach the industrial area. Admitting that that would be a "roundabout" route, as Selectman Edward Harris commented, Byrne suggested that the longer route may inspire industries to "jump on our bandwagon to get an interchange."

The board agreed to check with Police Chief James Johnson about the feasibility of restricting commercial traffic through Ballardvale.

Selectman Susan Poore told Byrne that state authorities have known for years that there is an excessive amount of industrial traffic in Ballardvale. That is, in fact, one of the major reasons why an interchange has been proposed for Lowell Junction, Poore indicated.

A state traffic study of the area "makes a mockery of their own standards," she said. Town officials have been flooded with calls and petitions about the traffic for years, she added.

Andover, Tewksbury and Wilmington officials have been struggling to have a Lowell Junction interchange built for over 20 years. A ray of hope seemed to appear last year when the state gave high priority to the interchange after studying potential improvements to the I-93 corridor.

The struggle was renewed this spring, however, when town officials learned the state now places higher priority on improving the River Road interchange to serve the West Andover Industrial Tech Park.

Former Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark suggested that the inability of Andover, Tewksbury and Wilmington to reach an agreement on what type of interchange they want may have impeded the project in the past.

August 5 Deadline Set For Decision On Pole Hill Plans

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The Planning Board's continuing discussion of a proposed 69-home subdivision on Pole Hill in Ballardvale will end by Aug. 5, the planners' latest — and presumably final — deadline for approving or disapproving the developer's definitive plans.

All but two major issues have been resolved between the developer, Arthur Kallaganis of T.D.J. Development Corp., and town officials since the subdivision approval was postponed first from a June 24 deadline, and then from July 22.

Still in question are what type of second access may be added into the 45-acre development, which was designed with only one access roadway from Tewksbury Street, and whether the developer will replace the water line on Tewksbury Street to serve the new homes.

Fire and police officials have recommended that a second access is necessary for safety reasons. Last week, engineer Paul Ferrante of Dana F. Perkins Associates, representing the developer, proposed a 14-foot wide gravel emergency roadway to Center Street. The roadway would follow a 30-foot wide water main easement.

But Planning Board Chairman David Gravalles said Tuesday night that police and fire officials would consider a gravel roadway "of no use to them as an emergency access."

The road would not be maintained by the town, so it would not be plowed during the winter, he explained, and the developer would block it with a chain to stop traffic. "The fire department says that even in good weather, they wouldn't bother to use it — they would go up Tewksbury Street," he said.

Public safety officials reluctantly concede that the gravel road would be "better than nothing," Gravalles added, but still do not consider it an adequate emergency access.

Busing Criteria Studied

By Linda S. Corbett

The Andover school and police departments are meeting today, according to Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert, to set up the criteria to use in cases where parents feel it is not safe for their youngsters to walk to school.

Once the official criteria are determined, Seifert says, the police department will review the written requests from parents who feel hazards in their areas are particularly great. Those people will then receive a written response from both the schools and the police, Seifert said. If an extreme danger is found to exist, he said he would take that case before the school committee.

Seifert said he had not received many calls this week from parents who wanted to be added to the list for review.

Some three dozen parents, primarily from the Rattlesnake Hill and Ballardvale sections of the South School district, turned out at last week's school committee meeting to protest that the new busing guidelines would force their youngsters to walk in dangerous areas.

The school committee was scheduled, at that meeting, to reword its busing policy, in keeping with new decisions they made during budget deliberations in the spring. They determined back then to limit bus service to elementary youngsters who live more than a mile and a half from school, instead of a mile, and to secondary youngsters who live more than two miles, instead of a mile and a half.

The new policy also means the end of "door to door" bus service for kindergartners. Those beginners who live less than a mile and a half from school will be

No Luck

Warm days and high humidity make for lazy days during summer vacation, so Scott Livermore, nine, 34 Wild Rose Drive, decided to pass a few hours trying his luck with hook and line. New Directions

Andover stands on the threshold of new directions in its secondary education programs.

The appointment of Mary Athey Jennings as new principal at Andover High School joins with that of the beginning of a new administration at Phillips Academy with Donald W. McNemar taking over as headmaster this month.

The cooperative effort of the past between the academy and the high school can be expected to continue and may even be enhanced in the years ahead.

Mrs. Jennings' appointment as high school principal marks the first female administrator at that level in the Andover school system. There have been women serving as principals at the elementary level in the community and all have performed exemplary service. Based on the credentials which accompanied the appointment of Mrs. Jennings to the high school post, we trust she will likewise serve Andover well.

She has a record of accomplishment established at Cambridge Rindge and Latin School where she served as a housemaster and introduced innovative programs involving the community as well as involving students in programs aimed at improved discipline.

While it is presumptuous to assume she will bring such programs to Andover, certainly they would be welcomed here within the context of a new administration at the high school.

Educational philosophy has a way of changing to meet the times, and the appointment of a person from outside the school system may well be timely.

Her predecessor, Philip Wormwood, indeed proved during his tenure that he was in the proper position for the period of his administration, and well could have directed the town's secondary education program had he chosen to continue.

But, with his retirement, came the opportunity to give new direction to the school program and to also involve a person in the building program which recently got underway.

As a candidate, Mrs. Jennings was reviewed by a group of persons within the school system, involving faculty and administration, who ultimately provided the superintendent with recommendations.

The Cambridge school administrator was selected by Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert as his choice and the school committee, by majority vote, supported his recommendation.

There were local candidates among the finalists and some support by a minority of the school committee membership accorded the persons who have served in the Andover system for a considerable period of time.

While it may be argued that service at the local level should be rewarded when administrative vacancies occur, there may be motivating factors which preclude that choice.

We would have to judge that such was the case in the appointment of the new high school principal, whose qualifications and preparation for the field of public education must have led the screening committee and the superintendent to move in that direction.

The decision having been made, it is now imperative that the high school faculty accept the lead provided by the administration and provide support in a positive manner to the new principal.

As indicated at the outset here, Andover may well be on the threshold of new educational direction. The form that direction takes will, of course, be dependent on the cooperative effort of those with whom the administrator works and we feel confident that based on past performance of Andover's educators, such will be forthcoming.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July 1906

Miss Bertha C. Coutts was an usher at the commencement exercises at Simmons College, Boston, on Wednesday afternoon.

The annual reunion of Saint Augustine's parishioners will take place this evening. Everything that can contribute to a most enjoyable and successful event has been pressed into service and all will be royally entertained who have the leisure and good fortune to be present on that occasion.

Roy W. Lindsay leaves town tomorrow for Portland, Me., where he will play in an orchestra at Riverton Park for the summer. This is his third season at this resort.

The commencement at Andover Seminary brought forth the annual discussion of removing that institution to some other place. Constant dropping wears away the stone, and constant and long-continued agitation will take the Seminary away from Andover.

Lost — between Frye Village and Andover Centre, a dark brown veil with gold stickpin, containing a diamond. Finder please leave at Townsman office.

Miss Agnes Robinson of Lynn, formerly of Frye Village and daughter of Mrs. Joseph Robinson, with Miss Nellie Bittinger bravely rescued two drowning men in Flax Pond, Lynn yesterday. The men were out in a canoe and while changing places the craft tipped over, throwing the men into the water.

50 Years Ago — July 1931

The new post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to be known as Andover Post 2128, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held its mustering in and installation of officers Sunday afternoon in town hall, with James J. Dugan installed as Commander.

Miss Annie Ramsay of 117 North Main St. was pleasantly surprised with a beautiful umbrella from the co-workers of the Shawsheen Laundry where she has worked for a number of years before she sailed Sunday on the Transylvania for her old home town, Carnoustie Angus, Scotland, where she is to spend the next three months.

The practice of stopping street car busses in front of the Memorial hall library has been discontinued. Just why they were ever stopped there is difficult to understand, for no stop sign was put up at that point. It has been suggested that some of the drivers mistook the library building for town hall.

When William Swanton Bradford of 138 Main St. stepped forward from the ranks of the graduates of the Lowell Textile Institute, Tuesday, to receive his degree as bachelor of textile engineering the occasion marked the first time in the history of the school that a father and son had become graduates. Roy H. Bradford, father of the graduate, received his degree in wool manufacture from the Lowell institute in 1906, or just twenty-five years ago.

About one hundred attended the smoke talk held Monday evening in the Legion hall by the Andover Police Relief Association. The speakers of the evening were District Attorney Hugh A. Clegg and Probation Officer Charles A. Salisbury. District Attorney Clegg spoke on the boy problem and giving the boys a chance, also on law enforcement in general. Probation Officer Salisbury spoke on what probation is doing for the people.

25 Years Ago — July 1956

A public legislative hearing on Andover's town manager bill will be held here next Tuesday night. It is expected that the Committee on Towns, after hearing the pros and cons here Tuesday night, will report the bill out of committee for action by the House and Senate.

Atty. Arthur Williams, 127 Haverhill St., has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for representative in the General Court for the Fifth Essex District comprising Andover, North Andover, Methuen less precinct three and Ward one of Lawrence. He has been a lifelong resident of Greater Lawrence.

Further use of the Acme Concrete company's yard at Fletcher street will be determined by the courts. The selectmen, meeting Monday morning, decided to ask a declaratory judgement from the court as to the extent of Acme firm's right to operate there. There have been several public hearings when residents of the area have complained about the use of the yard — citing noise, vibration, traffic hazards, dust and devaluation of their property as reasons why use of the yard should not be allowed.

One-quarter of this year's Punchard graduating class of 105 is expected to attend a four-year, degree granting college or university. Guidance Director Bernard Kellmurray announced this week that 22 graduates have been accepted by colleges and universities; two are accepted by junior colleges; six will attend business, professional and technical schools; and eight will enter schools of nursing.

A petition to rezone some 30 acres of land between Shawsheen Road and North Main Street to residential Zone A has been denied by the Planning Board. The main reason for disapproving the petition was that it constitutes spot zoning. The law says spot zoning occurs when land is indistinguishable from the area but is re-zoned for the economic benefit of one person.

10 Years Ago — July 1971

Preservation of trees along roadsides in town is the aim of the tree department, as it began the annual spraying of pesticides this past week. The program is conducted at various times during the year to combat infestation of trees by harmful insects. Sprays used conform to modern ecology standards.

Improvements at the sanitary disposal site have been proceeding on schedule and according to plans presented at the annual town meeting, according to Public Works

Pole Hill

However, the planners have no legal right to require the developer to build a "full-blown" road, he indicated, "so we are left with the offer of a gravel road, or nothing."

A group of abutters at Tuesday's meeting said they opposed the gravel road because it would impinge on property belonging to Center Street homeowners. Charlotte Tying of Andover Street said the easement was intended "specifically for water pipes — that's all, not an emergency access."

Ferrante replied that the developer holds the deeds to the land; Gravalles said Town Engineer John Avery would be asked to settle that question.

But Joanne Jacobson of Center Street suggested eliminating the roadway completely, since it "isn't helping anyone and is hurting the people on Center Street." She pointed out that firefighters now "find ways to fight fires in the woods" near Pole Hill without any roads.

When Gravalles asked for "any Solomon-like thoughts" on the question, Atty. Reginald Marden, representing the developer, suggested that a pedestrian walkway could be built down to Center Street rather than a gravel roadway.

A walkway would prevent residents from taking shortcuts through neighborhood backyards, he said, while still not allowing traffic through the subdivision.

The planning board also decided to ask Public Works Director Robert McQuade for further explanation of why he recommends that the developer replace existing six-inch water pipes under Tewksbury Street with eight-inch pipes.

McQuade has indicated that eight-inch lines are necessary to serve the new subdivision.

But Ferrante pointed out that the town's master water plan, which the developer based his design upon, calls for six-inch pipes. "What they (the master planners) designed it for is what we're conforming to," he said.

It would cost the developer approximately $15 per foot to install new eight-inch pipes under Tewksbury Street.

Gravalles said that during its Aug. 4 meeting, the board would "wrap up" discussion of the controversial subdivision, which Ballardvale residents have fought every step of the way since Kalogianis first proposed it last year.

In addition to the information they requested on the gravel roadway and water pipes, the planners are also waiting for a legal opinion from Special Town Counsel Thomas Arnold on a cart path which winds through the subdivision property down to the Shawsheen River.

Ballardvale residents argue that the path has always been — and should remain — a public way, while Marden maintains that it belongs to the developer, and the public has no legal rights to the path.

Arnold will rule on whether that issue should have any bearing on the planners' subdivision approval or disapproval.

JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

A struggle backstage at the White House

By Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON - There is an all-American quality about Ronald Reagan. It may be his easiness of manner, his engaging sincerity, the way his whole personality seems to smile. He has a gift, too, for expressing himself movingly and for reducing great issues to simple moral principles.

In the past, conservative advocates saw in this folksy, relaxed leader a father figure for the American people and a vehicle for their own political agendas. But now that they have installed him in the White House, they are losing their hold on him.

The hard-line conservatives are dismayed over the number of moderates who have turned up in policymaking positions. The conservative champion inside the White House is Lyn Nofziger. He is a rumpled, scowling, lumbering fellow who has the temperament of the grizzly bear he resembles.

He has raised a ruckus in the backrooms over the failure to give more power to arch-conservatives. With some justification, he calls them loyalists who backed Reagan from the beginning. Yet they are being pushed aside, Nofziger complains, by moderates who supported Vice President George Bush.

The latest confrontation was over who will control

White House communications and public affairs. Nofziger wanted this authority, but staff chief James Baker won it. He is a moderate.

More than once, Nofziger has stormed out of White House staff meetings in a terrible wrath. One witness described his outbursts as "temper tantrums."

Nofziger is so frustrated that he has told associates he'll quit by the end of the year. He said other conservatives, including one Cabinet officer, are also ready to resign.

He has the backing of several arch-conservative power blocs and pressure groups. They draw their support from hard-core Republicans who might otherwise contribute their money to the party.

This has upset the party chairman, Richard Richards, who would like the independent groups to stop siphoning off political contributions. Richards has conservative credentials that are dyed-in-the-wool. But some of the pressure groups have lowered the boom on him.

The Reverend Jerry Falwell, leader of the Moral Majority, has complained to presidential adviser Ed Meese about Richards. Another White House aide, Morton Blackwell, has suggested in an internal memo that Richards should be shut up Chairman Richards just wants to stop the fending. He has nothing against the Moral Majority. What he wants is a Republican majority.

STUDENT INVESTORS - Budget director David Stockman has just come up with a new argument for cutting back student loans. He got the idea from one of his deputies, Glenn Schleede.

Schleede confided that his daughter had used a student loan to finance indirectly a money-making investment. Here's how it worked: She had enough money of her own to pay for her tuition, but she invested it in high-yield certificates of deposit. Then she borrowed money at lower interest rates from the student loan program to pay her college expenses.

The point is that she wouldn't have had the money to spare for an investment if the low-cost student loan hadn't been available.

The law forbids the use of student loans for any other purpose than education. But strictly speaking, the budget official's daughter used her own money for the investment and the taxpayers' money to pay for her schooling. What she did, therefore, was not illegal.

But the incident has aroused the interest of David Stockman. He has learned that other affluent students have turned a profit from the student loan program. They have put their own money into investments that draw high interest. Then they borrow money at low interest under the student loan program to pay their college bills.

Stockman hopes to stop this by restricting the lowest loans to students who really need help.

EXECUTIVE MEMO - The Peace Corps is saving the taxpayers some money by tricking the phone company. Officials at the Texas regional office of the corps recently instructed applicants to call collect, person-to-person. Then the Peace Corps bureaucrats refuse to take the calls; instead they call the applicants back at the less expensive, direct-dial rates.

Dozens of workers at Hill Air Force Base in Utah have charged that they've contracted a variety of diseases ranging from sterility to cirrhosis of the liver. They claim the cause was exposure to toxic chemicals used to maintain the Air Force's fighter jets.

There are 25 cities in the United States with populations of more than a million, but only two of them, according to federal experts, have developed plans to deal with a gasoline crisis. Unless you live in Los Angeles or Washington, D.C., you could be in trouble come another gas shortage.

To Present 'Sugar'

Town & Country Playhouse, Salem, N.H., will present "Sugar," the hit musical adapted from the Marilyn Monroe, Jack Lemmon film "Some Like it Hot." The story is about two men who witness a Mafia-type murder and, in trying to hide from the gangsters, end up joining an all-girl band, without letting them know they are men.

"Sugar" begins July 22 and is performed nightly until the 26. Town & Country Playhouse is located five minutes from Rockingham Park at Exit 1, off Route 93.

Andover Blue Winning Streak At 5

By Howard Larrabee

Andover Blue won three, lost none in games the week of July 6 in Greater Lawrence Babe Ruth League action. Blue bested North Lawrence 5-2 at Andover High School, beat Prospect Hill 8-6 in a come-from-behind victory and dumped South Lawrence East 7-4, both at Stadium 2 in Lawrence. Blue upped its record to 8-2 with these wins and closed on front-runners Andover Gold and North Andover.

Andover Blue 5 North Lawrence 2

Tom Powers (2-0) with seventh inning help from Kurt Smith, stopped North Lawrence on four hits and Tom Lutz banged a double and triple to pace Blue to a 5-2 triumph at Andover High School.

Blue got three runs in the first on a double by Lutz, a walk and two errors. Blue got single tallies in the second on a base on balls to Brett Larrabee and Lutz's tripe, and the third when Mike Gibson doubled and John Geiger singled him home.

Powers struck out 5, walked 5 in going 6 full innings. Smith recorded his first save by facing three batters in the seventh.

Andover Blue 8 Prospect Hill 6

Blue tallied four times in the top of the seventh and hung on thanks to another great relief job from Kurt Smith to save John Geiger's fourth win against no losses in an 8-6 win over Prospect Hill.

Blue was leading 4-3 entering the last of the sixth when Prospect Hill hit Geiger with three runs, most of the damage being done with base-on balls and two timely hits.

Blue then reached back for some dutch hitting in the seventh. Tom Powers walked and Mike Gibson singled. David LaPorte doubled to the left centerfield gap for one run (16 RBIs on the season). After Geiger popped up, Smith singled to center to tie the game. Bob Rikeman singled for the go-ahead run and a wild pitch on a suicide squeeze attempt brough in Smith and put Blue ahead 8-6.

Blue didn't exactly coast home in the seventh. Geiger tired and walked two. After one out, an infield error loaded the bases. Smith was summoned and promptly got his second save by striking out the next two hitter. Gibson led Blue with three singles and Smith had a double in addition to his seventh-inning single and two RBIs.

Andover Blue 7

South Lawrence East 4

Kurt Smith (1-1) capped the week with still another great relief stint, this time to get his first win in relief of Mike Gibson in besting South Lawrence East 7-4 at the Stadium. Smith went four full innings, gave just one hit and struck out three in recording the win.

Blue broke up a 4-4 tie with three in the fifth and Smith closed the door after that. Bret Larrabee walked. Mike Surette singled and Tom Lutz hit a sacrifice fly. Tom Powers and Mike Gibson followed with RBI doubles to give Blue the lead for good at 7-4.

Powers led Blue with three hits, including two doubles. Lutz had two singles, Bob Rikeman, a single and double, and Dave LaPorte, a triple. In all, Blue had 10 hits which duplicated the numbr banged out against Prospect Hill.

Basketball Clinics Scheduled

The Andover-North Andover YMCA has two co-ed basketball clinics scheduled this summer for ages 9-14. The two dates for the basketball clinics are July 27th-31st and August 24th-28th. Registration for either one can be done by filling out a form and paying fee at the main desk of the Andover-North Andover YMCA. Clinics will begin at 1:30 p.m. and will end at 5:20 p.m. A swim will be included in this program at the end of our practices. The purpose of our camp is to develop a well-rounded basketball player by emphasizing the importance of learning fundamental skills. Basics covered in our clinic will be passing, running, dribbling, shooting, rebounding, and footwork. YBA philosophy will be incorporated into our program and such important items as respecting yourself and your teammates, cooperation with coaches, officials and other teammates is also a part of the learning process.

Each person should bring shorts, T-shirt, socks, basketball sneakers, bathing suit and towel (wrist and head band would be helpful). Drinks will be provided for each day during our workouts.

Indian Ridge Wins

The Indian Ridge tennis team beat an experienced Ferncroft squad by a 13-9 margin last Friday at the Radisson-Ferncroft Country Club.

Shoki Mullick, Peter Kasshanek, Paul Gilmartin, Chris Poor and Kevin Foley led the way by capturing both a singles and a doubles match for Indian Ridge. Playing number one singles for the girls, Jane Maldon proved too consistent for her hard-hitting Ferncroft opponent and went on to win 6-3. Ani Mullick lost a close 7-5 match at boys number one singles but later paired with his brother, Shoki, to crush Ferncroft's top doubles team 6-1.

At number one doubles for the girls, Jane Maldon and Mary Oppel bowed 6-2 to a seasoned Ferncroft doubles team, but Andrea Augello, a doubles specialist, teamed with Erin Kaufman and then with Michelle Guzowski to capture the second and third doubles slots, 6-1 and 6-2, respectively.

Church, Jako Win Tourney

Andover residents, Harry Church and Micky Jako, won the open Doubles Championships at Cedar-dale this past weekend. Runnersup were Danny Modigliani and George Ab-dinoor. The ground strokes of Jako and the net play of Church proved too much for their opponents.

Gold Club Takes League Lead

By Rick Harrison

Bolstered by the staunch pitching efforts of righthanders Mark Grams and Billy Weidman, along with lefty Billy Vickers, Andover Gold took sole possession of first place in the Greater-Lawrence 13-15 Babe Ruth League following recent victories over South Lawrence East, South Lawrence West and archrivals North Andover and Andover Blue.

The Gold bats exploded for 20 hits against SLE in a lopsided 22-0 romp at the Stadium II Field, as Weidman lifted his personal record to 4-0 with a three-hit shutout and seven strikeouts.

A key RBI single by Weidman, coupled with a clutch safety squeeze bunt by Kraig Burzlaff, enabled Andover Gold to nudge North Andover 2-1 in their showdown at the Andover High diamond.

Vickers scattered four singles, walked three, struck out six and didn't allow an earned run as he tamed North Andover.

Vickers came right back with a brilliant three-hitter, retiring the last 17 batters in order, as Gold spotted SLW a brief 2-0 lead and then roared back for a 6-2 triumph at Andover High. The crafty southpaw didn't walk a batter and struck out six.

Mark Grams was the star of the show against Andover Blue, as Gold posted a convincing 11-1 victory at Andover High. Grams tossed a six-hitter, and went 4-for-4 at the plate including a three-run homer.

Gold also played a non-league game against the Lowell Shedd All-Stars, pounding out 14 hits enroute to a 14-4 romp at Shedd Park in Lowell.

Four pitchers shared the mound duties in that one, while the offense was led by Billy Vickers, Scott Zimmerman, Mark Grams, Billy Lane, Mark Lefebvre and Kraig Burzlaff.

Burzlaff also turned in a pair of dazzling defensive plays at second base, saving several runs in the process.

The most recent results boosted the Gold record to 13-2 in the Greater-Lawrence League and 15-2 overall.

Gold was scheduled to play a pair of home games this week at the Andover High field.

South Lawrence East, which stunned North Andover 8-5 last Friday, provided the opposition last Tuesday night. Tomorrow evening Gold is slated to face Prospect Hill.

The final regular-season game against South Lawrence West is set for next week, and the league's post-season tournament opens Monday, Aug. 3.

Andover Gold, 22-0

There were offensive heroes galore for Gold, as 12 different players contributed hits and 11 collected RBIs against a quartet of South Lawrence East pitchers.

In registering its 10th victory of the season, Gold struck for four runs in the first, one in the second, one in the third, four in the fifth, four in the sixth and eight in the top of the seventh stanza.

Leadoff batter Mark Grams reached base six consecutive times, going 4-for-4 and walking twice. He rapped a double and three singles, scored three runs, drove home four runs and stole three bases.

Scott Zimmerman was a perfect 3-for-3, including a double, and he also walked once, stole three bases and scored four times.

Bill Weidman helped his own cause with two hits, four RBI and two runs scored, while Billy Vickers contributed an RBI double and run-producing single.

Mark Lefebvre added an RBI double and run-scoring single for Gold, which belted seven doubles in all.

Mark Doherty and Kevin Rourke ripped doubles, and both scored twice, while Paul Oshan lashed a single and scored a pair of runs.

Brian Finnerty chipped in an RBI single and scored a pair of runs, while other RBI hits went to Shane Smith, Steve Dougal and Scott Wilkins.

A total of 11 walks also aided the Gold assault.

The winners again played errorless ball in the field, with "rookie" third baseman Shane Smith making a spectacular stop at the hot corner to start a doubleplay.

The keystone combination of shortstop Billy Lane and second baseman Kraig Burzlaff added steady defensive games.

This game also marked the return to the Gold lineup of 15-year-old outfield stand-out Rob Wilson, sidelined since the beginning of the season with a broken bone in his right (throwing) hand.

Wilson, who hit .417 for the East Junior High freshmen before suffering the injury just prior to that team's final game, made his presence felt immediately with a superb tumbling catch in centerfield during the second inning.

Despite his injury, Wilson did not miss one practice or game.

Andover Gold, 2-1

Gold won its three-game regular-season series against North Andover with this victory, and in the process regained first place and halted NA's eight-game win streak.

Gold captured the first meeting between the teams, 6-4, while just eight days before this game North Andover had nudged Gold 1-0 in a brilliant pitcher's duel between Billy Vickers and NA righthander Dave Blackstock.

This time around Blackstock surrendered eight hits, struck out three and didn't walk a batter.

Vickers (3-2), however, permitted just four singles and whiffed six. He walked three, two of them on very close calls, and now has issued just five free passes in 32 innings.

North Andover drew first blood, scoring an unearned run in the opening stanza despite the fact Vickers struck out the side.

Chris Strobel, a thorn in Gold's side all season, singled to rightfield, stole second and raced home on a two-out infield throwing error.

Andover Gold retaliated in the bottom of the second. Steve Dougal beat out an infield single to the shortstop hole, took second on Billy Lane's sacrifice bunt, and advanced to third on Mark Lefebvre's infield out.

Bill Weidman followed with a clutch two-strike RBI single to tie the game at 1-1.

The winning run came in the third when leadoff batter Mark Grams doubled, took third on a wild pitch, and raced home on Kraig Burzlaff's perfectly-placed safety-squeeze bunt up the first base line.

It marked the first time this season that Gold had used a safety squeeze.

Both teams threatened in the fourth.

Mike Atwood opened the NA half of the inning by reaching second on an infield throwing error, and he took third when Mike Clancy bounced out to Weidman at first base.

Vickers worked free, however, when Tom Murtaugh skied to shallow leftfield and the ever-dangerous Jim Norwood grounded to Steve Dougal at third base.

Mark Lefebvre spanked a two-out single in the bottom of the fourth, stole second and continued to third when the catcher's throw skipped into centerfield, but was left stranded as Weidman's flare to rightfield was caught off the shoetops by Chris Abele.

Gold mounted a serious threat in the bottom of the sixth. Vickers and Scott Zimmerman opened the inning with singles, and Dougal then bunted both into scoring position.

Blackstock bore down at this point, getting Billy Lane on a soft line to left and striking out the next batter.

After Atwood was safe on the error in the fourth, Vickers retired the next 10 batters in order until there was one out in the seventh.

Chris Abele then angled a two-strike single to the opposite field, and Norwood drew a walk to put the go-ahead run at first base.

Chris Strobel followed with a grounder to Billy Lane at short, forcing Norwood at second and leaving NA runners at first and third.

Bill Hermann duplicated that, lacing a grounder to Lane who tossed to Kraig Burzlaff covering second for the final out.

Vickers and Grams paced the Gold offense with 2-for-3 efforts, while Strobel finished 2-for-4 and Erdie Burton contributed a single.

Gold third baseman Steve Dougal enjoyed a sensational night in the field, handling five chances flawlessly and coming through with clutch plays on three separate occasions.

Dougal's most dramatic stop came in the top of the third, with two down and North Andover runners at first and second.

Erdie Burton slashed a sizzling grounder down the third base line, but Dougal made a diving backhand stab behind the bag and scrambled to the base for the acrobatic force play ending the inning.

Bill Weidman contributed a clutch scoop at first base to squash another NA threat, and Vickers once again fielded his position very well to rob Wayne Stearns of a base-hit.

Rob Wilson showed signs of his old batting form, drilling a liner to third that settled in Chris Strobel's glove.

Andover Gold, 14-4

Scott Zimmerman, Mark Grams and Brian Finnerty hurled two innings apiece, while Mark Lefebvre pitched one stanza in Gold's 14-4 non-league romp over the Lowell Shedd All-Stars.

The quartet combined for a six-hitter, walking six and striking out four.

Grams, who compiled the best statistics of the four, was credited with the win to raise his personal record to 2-0.

Gold notched one run in the first, four in the second, one in the third, five in the fifth and three in the seventh.

Mark Grams and Scott Zimmerman sparked the attack with 2-for-4 and three RBI apiece, while Billy Vickers went 3-for-3, scored three runs and drove home two.

Mark Lefebvre contributed a triple and single, Billy Lane spanked a pair of hits for one RBI, and Kraig Burzlaff hammered an RBI triple.

Rounding out the offensive assault were singles by Brian Finnerty and Kevin Rourke.

Burzlaff also walked twice and scored three runs, while Grams and Lefebvre scored a pair of runs each.

Burzlaff put together a sensational day in the field, ranging far to his left to nip Lowell Shedd's Fred McCall for the final out in the fifth, and scrambling behind the second base bag to throw out Dan Tighe to end the sixth with runners in scoring position.

Rob Wilson also contributed a fine running catch in centerfield, and Zimmerman handled five chances flawlessly at short-stop.

Brent Leahy slapped a single and two-run double for Lowell Shedd, while McCall chipped in a run-scoring triple.

Andover Gold, 6-2

Gold started slowly in this one, falling behind 2-0 in the top of first before lefty Billy Vickers took complete control of the situation.

Vickers, now 4-2 overall, surrendered a pair of seeing-eye singles in the first inning, allowed an infield hit with one down in the second, then proceeded to retire the final 17 South Lawrence West batters in order at the Andover High field.

Meanwhile, Gold chipped away for one run in the bottom of the first, two in the third, one in the fourth and two more in the fifth.

Hard-throwing righthander Vin DelSignore was the losing pitcher, allowing nine hits while walking just one and striking out three.

Vickers, who didn't walk a batter for the fourth time this season and struck out six, allowed a leadoff single to leftfield by DelSignore in the first.

He took second on Steve Dastous' bunt, advanced to third when Glenn McIntosh looped a single to shallow leftfield, and scored when McIntosh stole and the catcher's throw skipped through the infield.

McIntosh took third on the errant throw.

World Open Championship

This is the 19th consecutive year the "World Open Championship" Drum and Bugle Competition will be held. The show runs for two days in August with the first day devoted to Class A and all girls competition, while the second day is the Open Class national competition for the "World Open" title.

The show, the oldest, independently sponsored National Drum and Bugle competition in the nation, is also the first show of this type to present an educational assistance program in the form of scholarships to its marching members. This year, in addition to the scholarship aid, the participating corps will be competing for over $20,000 in cash prizes.

The competition is being sponsored by Quasar Inc., a non-profit organization whose purpose is to promote goodwill, sportsmanship and make the drum corp experience a worthwhile commitment for the youth of our country.

and he scored the second run on Kevin Sullivan's infield out.

Mark Grams opened the Gold first with a line double to leftfield, took third on Kraig Burzlaff's sacrifice bunt, and scored on Vickers' infield out.

Ron Drouin spanked a one-out infield single in the second, but Vickers was untouchable thereafter as only one ball was hit out of the infield over the last six frames.

Billy Lane started the Gold second with a single, took second on Mark Lefebvre's bunt, but that's as far as that threat went.

Andover took the lead for good in the third when Grams, red-hot at the plate recently, singled to open the stanza. Burzlaff dropped another bunt, and when the throw to second base went wild, the runners advanced to second and third.

Vickers tied the game with a sacrifice fly to rightfield, plating Grams, and Steve Dougal rescued Burzlaff with a looping single to rightfield to make it 3-2.

The first insurance run came in the fourth when Billy Lane singled, pinch-runner Brian Finnerty advanced on another Lefebvre bunt, and Robbie Wilson drilled an RBI single through the shortstop.

Gold collected two unearned runs in the fifth, doing all the damage with two down.

Scott Zimmerman was safe on an error, Steve Dougal singled, and both runs scored when Lane's infield hit also produced a wild throw.

Billy Lane sparked the Gold attack with a perfect 3-for-3 night, while Grams and Dougal delivered two hits apiece.

Kraig Burzlaff, who has been playing sensational defense at second base all season, handled six more chances flawlessly while Vickers had five assists on the mound.

Vickers threw only 75 pitches in the game, and he has now walked just five batters in 39 innings.

Andover Gold, 11-1

Gold avenged its only lopsided loss of the season, drilling Andover Blue 11-1 behind the pitching and hitting of Mark Grams at the Andover High field.

The triumph also enabled Gold to clinch the regular season series between the intra-town rivals, as Gold won the opener 5-4 before Blue registered an 11-0 victory in the second game.

Grams (3-0 overall), making his first Babe Ruth start, put together a spectacular all around game.

On the mound he pitched very smartly, holding the hard-hitting Blue crew to six safeties while walking only one and striking out one.

At the plate he continued his torrid hitting (12 for his last 15) with his second perfect 4-for-4 night, driving home four runs and scoring a pair. One of his hits was a three-run homer in the bottom of the second to get the Gold attack rolling.

The winners finished the contest with 11 hits, although previously-undefeated Blue ace righthander John Geiger managed nine strikeouts along with five walks.

Gold took itself out of a potential big inning in the first, failing to score despite a single and two walks when two runners were picked off base.

In the second Billy Weidman reached first on a fielder's choice, Rob Wilson lashed a two-out single up the middle, and Grams followed with his three-run homer over the leftfielder's head.

Gold upped the lead to 5-0 in the third when Billy Vickers and Scott Zimmerman lashed back-to-back singles, Steve Dougal lofted a sacrifice fly to centerfield, and the fifth run crossed on an error.

Andover Blue spoiled Grams' shutout bid in the fourth, as Mike Gibson rocketed a leadoff triple to leftfield and scored on Geiger's one-out infield tapper to second base.

Gold retaliated with three more in the bottom of the fourth, however, as Rob Wilson drew a one-out walk, Grams singled, Kraig Burzlaff hammered a two-run triple to right-centerfield, Scott Zimmerman walked, and Burzlaff scored when Zimmerman purposely became engaged in a rundown.

The Gold onslaught continued in the fifth as the score jumped to 10-1. Billy Weidman led the inning with a triple to left-field, and pinch-runner Mark Doherty later scored on a wild pitch. Rob Wilson then walked, and he came across for the third time on Grams' fourth hit of the game.

In the bottom of the sixth Steve Dougal reached on an infield error, took third on Billy Lane's single to centerfield, and scored when Weidman slashed a grounder to first baseman, Dave Laporte, who made a nice, defensive play.

Eight different players had basehits for the Gold, with Grams' four leading the way.

Mike Surette belted a triple, Dave Laporte rapped an opposite-field double, and other singles for the Blue were contributed by Tom Powers (infield) and Bob Rikeman.

Andover Gold continued its strong defensive play, making no errors once again.

Kraig Burzlaff handled nine chances flawlessly at second base. Scott Zimmerman made six plays in his debut at shortstop. Rob Wilson contributed a flashy diving catch in leftfield, catcher, Billy Lane, gunned down a pair of Blue runners trying to steal, and Grams had two nice stops on the mound.

TAX FREE EXCHANGE

You can sell your present investment property at a profit, pay the capital gains tax, and re-invest what you have left into a larger property. This could be an unnecessary loss of cash. There is another way to accomplish the same result without paying the tax on the profit. It is called a "tax-free exchange". It could be of special importance if your present property has already seen much tax depreciation over the years.

To qualify for a tax-free exchange, both properties must be held for "productive use in business or for investment" and must be of a "like kind", but most real property held for business or investment would be considered so.

The most significant advantage of a tax-free exchange is that it enables you to obtain the property you want by using the inflated current value of your present property without having to pay the tax on the profit because it is, in effect, an exchange not a sale. But if you are in this position, by all means, have a professional handle the details. It's no arena for amateurs.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

School Construction Underway

Construction is underway at the three sites of the $13.72 million school building project, and the continuing carpenters' union strike has yet to affect the building schedule, acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi reported to the selectmen Monday night.

Meola Construction has begun work on the playing fields at the Doherty school site, while Peabody Construction has started site work at Andover High and West Junior High.

up at the high school auditorium site was the ground dug by the "fancy shovels" at the recent ground-breaking ceremony.

Under the three-part building program approved by 1980 town meeting, the Doherty school will be renovated into a junior high, with a new addition and the Memorial Auditorium wing of East Junior High used as the auditorium and gymnasium; parts of Andover High will be renovated, and a new 1,250-seat auditorium built; and parts of West Junior will be renovated, with a new Instructional Materials Center (I.M.C. or library) built in the courtyard.

Buses

expected to get to school in the morning with the older children, and home again with them in the afternoon.

At noon, kindergartners who live more than a mile from school will be bused. They will, however, be let off and picked up at centralized bus stops instead of at their driveways.

The school committee last week also decided to include in the written policy the criteria for measuring how far a youngster lives from school. Mileage is to be clocked from the edge of the pupil's property nearest the school, to the nearest access road, or driveway, to the school building.

One of the parents last week asked if her youngster, walker under the new policy, could walk back to the nearest bus stop.

The neighbors all will ride, she said, while the nearest walker is nearly a third of a mile away.

The world's largest city in population is Shanghai in China, with about 11 million residents.

Scuba Instruction

The Greater Lawrence YMCA Downtown Branch is now accepting applicants for their Instructional Scuba Class.

Classes, available to men and women 15 years of age and older, will be held on Thursday from 7:30-10:30 p.m. beginning July 30 and continuing through Sept. 24.

All participants must be in good health and be able to pass a swim test. Those successfully completing the program will receive a YMCA National Scuba certification.

Applications are available at the main desks of the Downtown and Andover branches of the Greater Lawrence YMCA. For more information, call the YMCA Downtown Branch, 40 Lawrence St.
